PORT KEMBLA MEN'S GROUP

The Wood Oven

Who we are....

The Port Kembla Men's Group was established in February 2007.

We are a group of men from diverse social and cultural backgrounds working together to create a place for men to get together, to socialise, build friendships, share & learn new skills, and enjoy life.

What we do....

For some, it's relaxing into a great conversation over a cup of coffee. To others it's getting creative in the kitchen cooking up a delicious lunch to share. Or firing up the wood fired bread oven & baking bread and pizzas. Then there are those who love getting into the garden or doing something in the workshop. A game of chess?.... It's up to you!

What we really do reflects what people are interested in & enjoy doing. The main objective is about getting out of the house, meeting up with different people, doing something positive, & making a contribution to help create an enjoyable day.

How we do this is simple. Each week, first thing, we get the café fired up and have a great espresso coffee. It's a good way for us to catch up and provides a welcoming atmosphere for any new men thinking about getting involved.

Cooking and sharing a meal together has become one of the most important aspects of the day.

However, we don't just sit around talking over coffee and food. We are on a mission to improve our workshop, art studio, and vegetable gardens. So that those men who like doing building or art projects have got a space to be creative & constructive.

When we meet.....

Day: on every Wednesday

Time: 9.00am to 3.00pm

How we fund it....
